

Join us! - Double Degree Program

Software Competence Center Hagenberg

SCCH is a leader in the fields of Data Science and Software Science and acts as an interface between international research and domestic industry. This enables the optimal implementation of projects in the fields of digitalization, Industry 4.0 and artificial intelligence.

Our core areas enable expert career paths that often begin during studies. The research focus is present at all levels, with a focus on project management or research activities from a certain level onwards. At all career levels, there is a broad and varied range of tasks.

Since the foundation of SCCH in 1999, the importance of Data and Software Science has increased. Due to the rapid development of Deep Learning and in connection with future topics such as Industry 4.0, IoT and Artificial Intelligence, the linking of Data and Software Science is of enormous importance. SCCH is a COMET center promoting the networking of basic scientific research and applied research and development and is therefore one of the best research centers in Austria. The regular evaluation of an international jury of experts guarantees an outstanding standard of research. Besides, SCCH is an excellent partner for the domestic economy.

International orientation

SCCH bundles and integrates national and international scientific competencies and cooperates with more than 60 research institutions in Austria and abroad. Our international team guarantees constant exchanges with interesting people, gaining new perspectives, and learning from one another. The international composition of our workforce shapes our corporate culture. We employ around 20 colleagues from many different countries, such as Egypt, Russia, Argentina, India, and Iran. The company language is English.

Contact us!

Right now, we are looking for Software Engineers and Data Scientists with ambition to work in research to support our team. If you want to take a look at the open positions, please feel free to explore our homepage: www.scch.at

If you do not find the right position there, do not hesitate to send us your application anyway. We are always happy to broaden our horizons by finding new ways of cooperation. jobs@scch.at